

Mariëke

37 years old

Background:

A mother of two children who values a well-rounded approach to learning.

Goals for Child:

- Develop self-awareness and emotional intelligence.
- Stay close to their authentic selves while building confidence.

Frustrations:

- Concerned that schools focus too narrowly and don't teach children to listen to their inner selves.
- Thinks there should be more emphasis on technical skills in the curriculum.

Anna
38 years old

Background:

A mother of three who values honesty and community in raising children.

Goals for Child:

- Encourage curiosity about the world and build skills to adapt in different contexts.
- Help their child grow socially by understanding that kindness begets kindness.

Frustrations:

- Thinks schools should incorporate more technical education and innovative methods to keep kids engaged.

Mark

42 years old

Background:

A single parent of 1 child, who values teaching children how to navigate emotions and face challenges calmly.

Goals for Child:

- Build emotional resilience through reflection on experiences.
- Learn to stay grounded and think critically before acting.

Frustrations:

- Wishes schools would help children reflect more on their feelings and actions.